

Imaging the Sky with Digital, Web & Video Cameras

Saturday June 26, 2004
Mt. Hood Community College Planetarium

Digital, web & video cameras are commonly used in imaging the Moon, Sun & planets. This conference shows how to use these cameras and provides tips on enhancing the images taken by them. This conference is designed for everyone astronomically inclined, including those who have no prior astronomy imaging experience.

Schedule

8:30 am	Registration
9:00 am	Imaging Basics, Mel Bartels
10:30 am	Image Processing, Richard Berry
11:45 am	Lunch on your own
1:00 pm	Web Cameras, David Haworth
2:30 pm	Digital Cameras, Richard Berry
4:00 pm	Video Cameras, Craig Zerbe
5:15 pm	Dinner on your own
7:00 - 11:00 pm	Demonstrations weather permitting

Registration is $30.00 by May 31 & in June it is $40.00.
Registration & latest information is at www.its-ccd.org.

Sponsored by Mt. Hood Community College Science Club &
Planetarium Sky Theater, Gresham, Oregon

Images copyright 2004 Craig Zerbe & David Haworth